Dear friends,

I would like to begin this editorial by remembering a great man, an important FIAP Master, a dear friend of FIAP and a distinguished FIAP Vice President who, for years, attracted the affection and esteem of all the Members of our large family with his charisma - Jacques Denis, FIAP Hon. Vice-President - MFIAP, HonEFIAP.

Jacques left us the day before his hundredth birthday, taking with him the love of thousands of people who were fortunate enough to know him. As a longtime member of the FIAP Board, he always represented, with his calm and conciliatory temperament, a guiding balance to whom we all looked up with respect and admiration. Farewell great friend; may the earth rest lightly upon you.

I must draw everyone's attention to a matter of great importance: the "1st Universities & Academies Photographic World Cup". This event arose from the pressing and justified request of many Federations and clubs to engage in specific projects for young people who, while representing our future, are increasingly scarce in our ranks, as in those of the main international photographic organizations.

The competition required extensive and challenging planning and the search for partners to support this ambitious project. The FIAP Photo Academy Training took on the project, and I presented the initial draft to the FIAP Congress in Asturias (Spain) in December 2022. Again in October 2023, we revisited the project during the General Assembly in Armenia. Added to this are the numerous references to the project in the pages of FIAP NEWS, culminating in the publication of the final announcement last May.

Given all the effort and anticipation, we expected a significant response from all FIAP members, as the competition was aimed not only at Universities but also at Academies and Photography Schools in general.

However, we received photos from only 17 of the 120 FIAP member countries, which is quite surprising! It is true that this is the first edition, and the competition can and must be improved in the future, thanks to your valuable suggestions, but now we absolutely need your support to ensure that all our efforts have not been in vain.

The competition deadline has been extended until August 18, so I urge you to do everything possible to make this initiative aimed at our young people a great and important success. Please send the announcement as quickly as possible to all Universities, Academies, and Photography Schools, encouraging them not to miss this very important opportunity.

Allow me to remind you once again of the important prizes for the top three (3) winners:

- Free stay in China from October 9 to 21, including international flight, domestic transfers, accommodation, and full board.
- Participation in:
 - Lishui Photography Symposium
 - Awards Ceremony in Jinan
 - Awards Ceremony at the Olympic Towers in Beijing
 - Photo Beijing 2024, one of the largest photographic events in the world.
- A one-day workshop in Jinan with world famous photographers:
 - Manoocher Deghati (<https://manoocherphoto.wordpress.com/>)
 - Tom Ang (<https://tomang.com>)
- Three cameras worth $3,000, $2,000, and $1,000 respectively.
- Exhibition of a portfolio of 15 images for each winner during the Awards Ceremony in Jinan.
- Exhibition of a portfolio of 15 images for each winner throughout 2025 in all 27 FIAP Exhibition Centers, with an additional 5 centers opening in 2025.
- Moreover, the top three (3) ranked Universities, Academies, or Photography Schools (ranked by the sum of scores of the photos submitted by 5 students) will have their Dean or Director invited to China from October 9 to 21, with all expenses covered (including international flight, domestic transfers, accommodation, and full board).
- Please note that to participate in the contest, each University, Academy, or Photography School must select 5 students not older than 25 years (born after June 30, 1999) and directly upload their data and pictures (a maximum of 4 photos per author).

Full details of the competition and entry information are set out here:

<https://fiap-university.fotogenius.es/>

Finally, I want to mention our next important event in November, the 36th FIAP Congress, which will be held from November 1 to 7 in Jaipur, Pushkar, Agra, and Delhi. It is wonderful to hear that many people have registered for this event, so much so that the places have now been filled as of the end of July and no new registrations can be accepted now. Those of you who have already registered must finalise your payments by 15th August.

This significant event is organized by our friend Barun Sinha, Liaison Officer of India, whom I thank again for his excellent work and I am sure it will offer unique and magnificent photographic opportunities.

Best regards,

Riccardo Busi,
FIAP President

FIAP Distinctions Service

By Jef Lemmens, HonEFIAP, EFIAP/d3
FIAP Director of the Distinctions Service

As you may know Freddy Van Gilbergen has resigned as director of the FIAP distinctions Service.

In 2005 he became director of the service and in 2010 he was nominated to the Board of Directors of FIAP in Hanoi (Vietnam). In 2014 he was elected Vice President of FIAP in Ankara (Turkey). He has therefore made an exceptional contribution to FIAP.

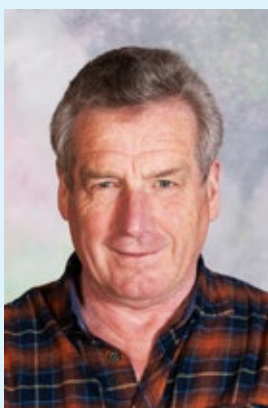

As of June 1, I will be the new Director of the FIAP Distinctions Service.

Some of you may know me because I have been the Director of the Collection Service for more than 7 years. I also assisted the Distinctions Service, being the person who informed FIAP Liaison Officers of the issues that required rectification in their nation's applications for FIAP Distinctions.

I will do my best to make the transition between Directors as smooth as possible.

For the time being, little will change in the operation of the Distinctions Service. Regulations document 011/2016 details the current requirements for FIAP Distinctions. This includes a requirement for AFIAP and EFIAP applicants to gain a number of acceptances with prints in print sections of salons.

I would like to thank my predecessor Freddy Van Gilbergen for his confidence in me and the FIAP Board that agreed and entrusted me with this role.

Hello. It is now summer here in the Northern Hemisphere so we will have a little break in our programme.

But we are working on preparing a programme of presentations for later in the year and we can let you know about these very exciting presentations which we have planned.

The first will be a presentation by the Australian photographer Nick Moir on Saturday 12th October 2024. Nick is the chief photographer for the Sydney Morning Herald and is a founding member of the Oculi photographic collective. His passion is capturing the dramatic environmental phenomena of Australia from its ragged lightning and dust storms and blackening bushfires to the devastating effects of climate change.

And on Thursday 28th November 2024 we will be joined by Greg Lecoeur. Greg is from France and is the founder of the We Are Méditerranée association which aims to reconnect Man with Nature. By combining Exploration, Art, Science and Education, its objective is to promote the marine heritage of the Mediterranean through images to raise awareness, amaze, awaken curiosity and raise awareness of beauty and the fragility of the marine world.

Don't forget that recordings of previous presentations are available on the dedicated FIAP YouTube channel at <https://www.youtube.com/@fiapchannel2802>

This is a fantastic resource for all our operational members. There is a wealth of presentations with great photography and lots of tips and techniques to help us all improve our standards and our appreciation of the work being done by these great masters.

If you would like to receive notification of events, send an email to fiapphotoacademy@gmail.com asking for your email address to be included on our distribution list.

me, but I will give a brief summary of his role in photography. I will limit myself to three major achievements in his photographic career.

The first is his chairmanship of the Belgian Federation of Photo Circles, which came to an end when the culture department was split into a French and Flemish department around the 1980s. He subsequently served as chairman of the umbrella organization, namely the Belgian Federation of Photographers, a role in which he built more awareness of and involvement with FIAP.

Under his leadership, a FIAP Congress was organized in Belgium in 1989 with great success. This event allowed the participants of this 20th FIAP Congress to explore the most beautiful places in Belgium. Organizing such a conference is no longer possible for our Belgian Federation.

The second important achievement was the start of a long career within the FIAP, one which started prior to 1979 with him setting up the AV Service of FIAP and later saw him join the FIAP Executive Board in 1997 at the Congress in Shenzhen, China as the FIAP Vice President. He remained a Vice President of FIAP until his retirement at the Congress in Hanoi, Vietnam, in 2010.

In May this year, a person held in great esteem in the history of Belgian Photography, and also in the history of the FIAP, Jacques Denis, disappeared from us one day before his hundredth birthday.

Writing a text about someone who has been at the service of photography all his life is a difficult assignment for Jacques was the person who liked to make compromises and calm people down. Together with his wife Andréé Denis, they formed the FIAP couple par excellence and the FIAP Collections Service was founded. Many photos from the Distinctions Service were selected at the Denis' home by a five-member jury and the most beautiful photos were handed by him and his wife to the Museum of Lausanne. They continued this task until his 85th birthday.

His love for audiovisual productions prompted him to set up an Audiovisual Service within both Belgium and also for FIAP. He was FIAP Director of this Service from some time prior to 1979 until 2010. He set up Salon Patronage for AV salons and FIAP Distinctions for Audio Visuals makers during these years, all of which are still active.

A third part of his photographic career was the chairmanship of the Royal Mechelen Photo Circle, a club known all over the world for the biennial audiovisual festival that took place over a period of 2 weeks in Mechelen. The preselections and judging by well-known diaporamists from all over the world took place in the Denis family's living room. A large screen and the necessary slide projectors and sound system were set up in the living room for a period of at least a week. He was also responsible for editing, compiling and sending the well-known club magazine "Brandpunt" to many people, not only his club members but also all the people he knew.

In addition to his love for photography, Jacques had another hobby; listening to classical music, which he enjoyed and went to numerous concerts with his wife. This preference for classical music was also reflected in his slide programs.

In recent years he has devoted a lot of time and energy to his grandchildren and great-grandchildren, his favourite pastime, especially if they were interested in photography or music.

In 1985 Jacques received the MFIAP with a portfolio on life in the Paris metro. In 1976 he was awarded the HonEFIAP and in 2010, Honorary Vice President of FIAP was conferred upon him.

Goodbye Jacques. Rest in peace dear photo friend.

FIAP Best Author of a Salon FIAP Best of the Best of the Year

*By Romain Nero EFIAP/d1 HonEFIAP
Director of the FIAP Patronage Service*

To honour the most successful and loyal participants in FIAP salons, in 2010 the FIAP board decided to introduce a new award, which is attributed to the best entrant of each salon, and a new annual title based on this award.

Each salon determines a "FIAP Best Author" title to whom a FIAP special light blue pin is awarded. This pin is delivered to the salon free of charge and the salon awards it to the salon entrant who has achieved the highest number of acceptances across all the sections of the salon added together. In the event of a tie, the salon organiser irrevocably decides the winner, taking awards into consideration.

Over the period of each year, from the 1st January to 31st December, Mr Francis Nicoll from the FIAP Salon File Department maintains a tally to determine who has achieved the highest number of FIAP Best Author titles for the year.

The winning photographer is then invited to the next FIAP Congress where they will be honoured in a special "Best of the Best" (BOB) ceremony. A trophy is presented to this BOB photographer at this ceremony.

The FIAP Salon File Department works closely with the FIAP Ethics Service, that is under the watchful eye of Mr. Pierluigi Rizzato, to make sure that the winners have thoroughly respected the salon participation rules, especially regarding the conformity of photographs to the FIAP Nature definition. Sadly, nearly every year, contestants reluctant to play according to the rules had to be eliminated from the ranking lists.

Previous BOB winners have been:

- Raul Villalba, Argentina (2011)
- Luis Alberto Franke, Argentina (2012, 2013)
- Daniel Lybaert, Netherlands (2014)
- Mamdooh Alsaleh, Bahrain (2015)
- Roger Jourdain, France (2016, 2017)
- Abdulla AL-Mushaifri, Oman (2018, 2019)
- Ching Ching Chan, Hong Kong (2020, 2021)
- Diana Chan, Hong Kong (2022)

Now it is with great pleasure that FIAP is announcing the winner of the BOB award for 2023.

Congratulations to István Kerekes EFIAP /d3 from Hungary
FIAP Best of the Best for 2023 with 42 Blue Pins

Enjoy the following pages where we showcase István and a selection of his successful images.

István Kerekes EFIAP/d3 FIAP Best of the Best Winner for 2023

Photography is an essential part of my life.

I was born in 1977. My qualification is physical education teacher. Having worked in that profession for twenty-two years, since 2022 photography has become my profession, and I have been working as a freelance photojournalist for two years.

I started photography almost thirty years ago, taking photos as a hobby for a very long time.

I entered my first FIAP competition in 2000, when I was twenty-three years old.

István Kerekes

For me, participating in FIAP's photo competitions is a real challenge, as winning prizes in these competitions means that your work is recognized. I currently have close to five thousand awards in photo contests, the most of any Hungarian photographer.

Since 2012, I have been continuously participating in international photo contests as a jury member or as jury president.

A major achievement in my life was when, in 2012, I was the first Hungarian (and the thirty-ninth in the world) to receive the EFIAP/platinum distinction. Then in 2018 I was able to take the EFIAP/d3 distinction, only the fifth in the world to do so – and I was the youngest photographer in the world to receive these two distinctions.

My favorite photo subjects are people, portraiture, photojournalism, sports, travel, landscape, nature. Through my photos, I present emotions, destinies, special non-ordinary faces, diversity of ethnicities, the wonder of movement, unique holidays, wonders of nature, fascinating landscapes.

The fact that I have won the "Best Author of Salon" in various competitions is a great honor. To do so, you must photograph several subjects well and have a good understanding of them.

Receiving the "Best of the Best" award is a momentous occasion and an achievement that I consider the pinnacle of my photographic career, as it is a world championship title.

I am acutely aware of the calibre of talent that exists within the FIAP community, and to be recognized among such esteemed peers is a privilege beyond measure. It fills me with both joy and a profound sense of gratitude.

The award is a validation of the countless hours of dedication, creativity, and passion that I have poured into my craft over the years. It is also a powerful affirmation of my artistic vision and a testament to the boundless possibilities of photographic expression.

I am deeply grateful for the support and encouragement I have received throughout my journey as a photographer, My Best of the Best award encourages me to continue this journey; it serves as both a milestone and an inspiration, motivating me to strive for excellence in all that I do. I am committed to pushing the boundaries of creativity and innovation in my work, and to present the world, and the interesting and sensitive details of the people living in it, through photography.

22nd FIAP Nature Biennial, Germany 2024

By Luis Franke, MFIAP, EFIAP/d3, HonEFIAP
FIAP Director of the Biennials Service

22nd FIAP Nature Biennial
Germany 2024

DVF

In 2024 the 22nd FIAP Nature Biennial was organised in Germany. The FIAP Operational Member for Germany is the “Deutscher Verband für Fotografie” (DVF).

The judging was completed on the 6th July in the city of Filderstadt. The judges were: Romain Nero, EFIAP/g, HonEFIAP (Luxembourg), Jef Lemmens, ESFIAP, EFIAP/d3 (Belgium) and Howard Tate, ARPS, AFIAP, HonPAGB (England). The whole process has been efficiently managed by Norbert and Karin Heil.

We are very grateful to all the participants of this Biennial. Collections were sent by 33 countries, and we received 874 photographs in total between the two sections.

The judging of the collections for each section was done in two steps:

- 1) the judging of each work of the collection
- 2) the judging of the coherence of the collection

The total score of a collection was obtained by the addition of the points from the two different judgements.

The print section had 24 countries participate. The winner of the World Cup was Italy. The medal winning countries were France, Ireland and Luxembourg. The HM’s were obtained by Argentina, Great Britain, India, Germany, Russian federation and Norway.

The digital section received collections from 32 countries. The winner of the World Cup was Canada. The medal winning countries were Great Britain, France and Belgium. The HM’s were obtained by Ireland, Luxembourg, Italy, Argentina, South Africa and India.

France obtained the Great Prize, Nature Trophy “Odette Bretscher”.

Mrs. Odette Bretscher created this prize in 1985, at the moment of leaving the presidency of FIAP. The prize rewards the country that is best placed in the combination of the two sections of the Nature Biennial.

Other than the awards for the winning country teams, eleven individual awards, six FIAP medals and five awards offered by the DVF, were given in each section to the top photographs.

The images entered by the top four countries in each section, the photographs that won the individual awards and some pictures from the judging are shown with this article. The full results are published on the FIAP website: <https://www.fiap.net/en/biennials>

Showcase of Images from the
EFIAP Diamond Recipients 2023

Each year the International Federation of Photographic Art (FIAP) honour eminent personalities known in the field of photography for their artistic work. These honours are known as FIAP Distinctions. With the exception of the Master of FIAP (MFIAP), FIAP Distinctions are awarded based on the applicant's achievements in International competitions run under FIAP Patronage. The top three of these levels are the Excellence FIAP Diamond Levels for which only international awards are counted. The following three galleries showcase one internationally awarded photograph from each of the successful EFIAP Diamond applicants for 2023.

FIAP Photo Academy Online Events Service

By Paul Stanley EFIAP/p ESFIAP FIPF,
Director FIAP Photo Academy Online Events Service

Marco Gaiotti joined us on Friday 23rd February for his second presentation, this one on the theme of "Photography in Shrinking Natural Habitats". And, as before, it was an excellent and very thought provoking presentation.

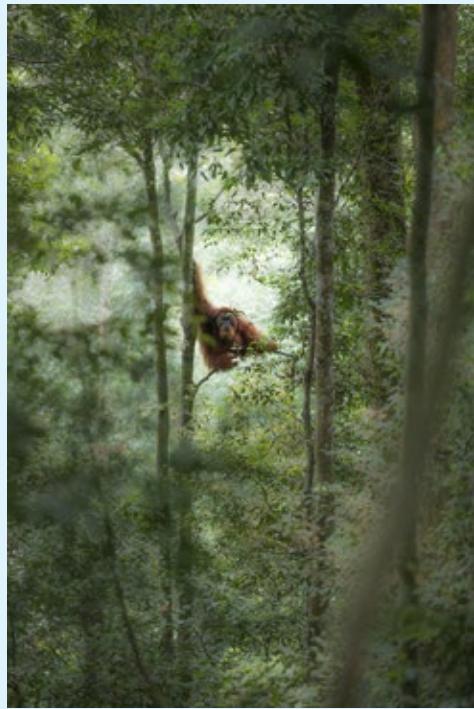

Born and raised in Genoa, Italy, in 2007 the award-winning photographer Marco discovered, almost by chance, the wild environments of Southern Africa, and with them the passion for nature photography, which drives him every year to explore the most uncontaminated habitats of our planet.

In 2009 he spent a month in Alaska to observe the fauna and the spectacular local landscapes, in complete autonomy, camping in the wilderness. From this experience the desire to give a more professional tone to his passion for photography grew.

In the fall of 2013 he participated in an expedition to the Svalbard Islands, a few days before the Arctic night. The results of this photographic adventure are translated into publications in the most important international newspapers, including a double page print in the paper edition of 'The Guardian'.

He has been honoured with numerous awards in the main international nature photography competitions, including: The SONY WPA (Open Shortlist), Nature's Best, Windland Smith Rice International Awards and Memorial Maria Luisa. Other awards were obtained at Asferico, GDT European Photographer of the Year, Montphoto, Oasis, Glanzlichter, SIPA, Nature Photographer of the year and Global Arctic Awards.

Marco loves unspoiled natural landscapes. In his landscapes he subtly gives way to different animal species such as polar bears, walruses, arctic foxes and seals. His photos are distinguished by the magical soft lights that illuminate the landscape or because of dramatic skies. Marco's images are in any case a feast for the eyes.

Documentary Photography with
MARTIN PARR
1st May 2024
London: 07.00 pm
<https://forms.gle/qH05qAseIZT4cjkw7>

Wednesday 1st May saw a wonderful presentation on Documentary Photography by the UK photographer Martin Parr, one of the best-known documentary photographers of his generation. With over 100 books of his own published, and another 30 which he has edited, his photographic legacy is already established.

During his presentation Martin showed us some of his well-known and, perhaps, not so well-known images. He explained how he started in photography and what motivates him to capture and record the British people as they go about their daily lives.

Martin is a chronicler of our age. In the face of the constantly growing flood of images released by the media, his photographs offer us the opportunity to see the world from his unique perspective.

At first glance, his photographs seem exaggerated or even grotesque. The motifs he chooses are strange, the colours are garish and the perspectives are unusual. His term for the overwhelming power of published images is "propaganda". He counters this propaganda with his own chosen weapons: criticism, seduction and humour. As a result, his photographs are original and entertaining, accessible and understandable. But at the same time they show us in a penetrating way how we live, how we present ourselves to others, and what we value.

Martin also acts as a photographic curator. He has curated two photography festivals - Arles in 2004 and the Brighton Biennial in 2010. More recently, Martin curated the Barbican exhibition "Strange and Familiar".

He has been a member of the Magnum agency since 1994 and was its President from 2013 - 2017. And in 2013 Martin was appointed the visiting professor of photography at the University of Ulster.

He established the Martin Parr Foundation in 2017 a photographic gallery, library, studio and archive based in Bristol, England.

Martin's work has been collected by many of the major museums, including the Tate, the Pompidou Centre and the Museum of Modern Art in New York.

Martin's website is: www.martinparr.com

On Saturday 25th May we were joined by the Australian photographer Richard I'Anson who gave us a fascinating presentation on Travel Photography.

The presentation focused on Richard's career as a travel photographer including getting started, selling stock, setting up Lonely Planet Images, photo tours and publishing. It included a selection of images to illustrate what, why and how he shoots.

Richard's images are published worldwide in books, magazines, newspapers, brochures, calendars, posters, cards and websites. He has published thirteen books including five editions of the best-selling Lonely Planet Guide to Travel Photography, and books on large format pictorials and books about photographic experiences and encounters in Australia, Nepal and India.

Richard was one of five photographers selected for the first series of the National Geographic Channel television series Tales by Light (now showing on Netflix). He is a Master of Photography awarded by the Australian Institute of Professional Photography (AIPP), an Ambassador for the Australian Himalayan Foundation and represents Canon Australia as a Canon Master Photographer.

He also runs workshops teaching all aspects of travel photography for individuals and small groups and leads photography tours to Australian and international destinations. He is also much sought after as a speaker and judge for photography and travel industry events and competitions.

His photography is represented by Getty Images and AWL Images. When he's not on the road he lives in Sydney, Australia.

Memories

Aside from photography's artistic and documentary aspects, photographs are an evocative way to recall our past and to celebrate our achievements. In this edition, we celebrate Maurice Van De Wijer, who was FIAP's first President and served with distinction in that role until 1976. He entered salons with FIAP Patronage, and below we celebrate Maurice with a selection of images he submitted. On the left are the images themselves accompanied by their obverse side showing the salon acceptance stamps.

Message from the Editorial Team of FIAP News

Dear friends in Photography,

Firstly, let me introduce myself. I am Tony Davis, proud past president of the Dublin Camera Club in Ireland.

As announced in the last edition of FIAP News, our Editor – Bronwen Casey – has stepped away from this and the next edition to deal with family matters, and I am delighted to be in a position to make a contribution to FIAP by taking on the editing role.

Bronwen has remained available to give invaluable guidance and advice and, having seen the amount of work that goes into producing FIAP News, I must congratulate her, Piero Alessandra and other team members for the quality of what they produce year after year.

While we have had to defer some of our standard features, we still have a really strong magazine. There are some exceptional images included in our features; the EFIAP Diamond Showcase, the announcement of the results of the Nature Biennial and the 2023 Best of the Best winner, one of whose images is featured on our front cover.

We also have pieces about two stalwarts of the FIAP community – a moving tribute to the recently deceased Jacques Denis and our Memories Section which features images from Maurice Van De Wijer, who was the very first FIAP president.

I would also like to emphasise the importance of messages from our President and Service Directors. In particular, Riccardo Busi in his President's address has announced the extended closing date (to August 18) for the 1st Universities and Academies Photographic World Cup. This imaginative and important innovation by FIAP is designed to encourage young people to embrace our art form.

In addition, our Director of FIAP Youth Services is reintroducing a Youth Photographers Gallery Section in FIAP News, commencing with the December 2024 issue.

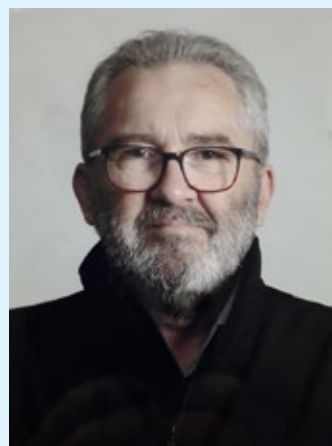

I strongly urge everyone to give these initiatives your strongest commitment and support.

And of course we are not forgetting FIAP's general educational role. The Director of our FIAP Photo Academy Online Events Service has lined up two great presentations in October and November this year.

The next issue of FIAP News is scheduled for December 2024. While the Recommendations, Articles and Affiliate News sections will not be available, we will be able to feature articles related to FIAP Exhibition Centres including new FEC openings. The information about submitting articles is shown on the following page.

Finally, I echo Bronwen's sign off - Stay safe, stay positive and stay kind to one another.
